WELCOME!

But just what do we mean by "leadership?" It would appear to be the capacity to look ahead, think ahead, plan ahead and then influence other people to go ahead in the plan.

— Ralph C. Smedley, Founder, Toastmasters International

Congratulations on your exciting decision to start a Toastmasters club. Because of dedicated people like you, more than 1,000 new Toastmasters clubs are chartered each year and hundreds of thousands of people worldwide are becoming more successful communicators and leaders. In deciding to start a club, you have taken on an important leadership role. Ralph Smedley believed that people can discover their latent leadership talents by participating in the regular activities of a Toastmasters club.

In your new club, members will learn valuable skills that will benefit their personal and professional lives. You will be encouraged to present impromptu and prepared speeches, learn how to plan and manage meetings, give and receive constructive feedback and participate in a comprehensive, self-paced education program.

The good news is that starting a club is much easier than you may think! Use this guide to get going and follow the steps to build a successful club. You will have plenty of support and resources along the way, many of which can be found right here in this guide.

Good luck with your new club!

Why do you want to start a Toastmasters club?

You may have many reasons for wanting to start a club. For example, if you're interested in forming a corporate club, it might be because you'd like to give yourself and your colleagues the opportunity to build your communication and leadership skills together. If you're interested in forming a community club, it might be because you want to help yourself and others develop self-confidence and leadership potential. One of the most important things to consider before you start your club is the Toastmasters club mission:

"Toastmasters International provides a supportive and positive learning experience in which members are empowered to develop communication and leadership skills, resulting in greater self-confidence and personal growth."

The club you form should embody this mission. Starting a Toastmasters club is an important responsibility and undertaking. It's your job to ensure that all members feel supported and that you have the resources to sustain and grow your membership. Providing a quality club experience should be your primary goal. For tips on running a successful club, see page 11.

STEP 1: LEARN HOW TOASTMASTERS WORKS

Check out a few clubs

Each Toastmasters club has its own personality, so it's a good idea to visit more than one to see what kind of club environment you'd like to create. With membership exceeding 352,000 in 16,400 clubs in 141 countries, Toastmasters makes it easy to find a club near you. An up-to-date listing of Toastmasters clubs by geographic area can be found at www.toastmasters.org/find.

Get advice from an experienced Toastmaster

Talking to or meeting with an experienced Toastmaster in your area who has gone through the process is a great way to get your club started. This person can provide you with encouragement and advice and is often excited and willing to help.

You can also contact the New Clubs team at Toastmasters International World Headquarters at +1 720-439-5050 or newclubs@toastmasters.org to assist you in getting started. Watch the Club Experience Video to see how a typical meeting is run.

► DID YOU KNOW?

Meeting with an experienced Toastmaster who has gone through the process is a great way to get your club started. They can provide you with help, encouragement and advice.

"I moved to Brazil at the end of 2011 because I wanted new challenges in my life. I started the English-speaking VOETM club and was very involved as its president. Seeing people become more confident in their roles as club officers was very rewarding."

Susan Hawkins, DTM

STEP 2: WHAT KIND OF CLUB DO YOU WANT TO FORM?

There are two main types of Toastmasters clubs—corporate and community-based.

Corporate club

A corporate club is affiliated with a sponsoring organization and attracts membership from its employee base. For example, AT&T, Apple, The Boeing Company, The Coca-Cola Companies, Google, Sony and many other Fortune 500 companies sponsor Toastmasters clubs. Some corporate clubs may decide to include members who are not employees; in this case the clubs are identified as “open.”

“Being in Toastmasters pushes you to take on challenges that you wouldn’t have taken on by yourself. You start stepping up more for a project and want to take on more responsibility and become a leader. That’s what makes our group truly what it is.”

Sven Dejean, CC, ALB
Procurement Analyst – Equipment and Sustainability, The Coca-Cola Company
Past president, Coca-Cola Toastmasters

If you decide to start a corporate club, there are a few things to keep in mind. Club meetings can be held onsite during business hours to make it convenient for employees to attend. If your company chooses to sponsor your club, it may offer support in a number of ways, including:

- ▶ Providing meeting accommodations
- ▶ Payment of the one-time charter fee
- ▶ Reimbursement of payment in full or partial membership dues and new-member fees
- ▶ Incentives for achieving educational goals
- ▶ Formal integration of Toastmasters meetings in the organization’s training program

For more information on how to start a corporate club, email corporaterelations@toastmasters.org. This team can put you in touch with volunteer Toastmasters leaders around the world who will meet with your organization to determine your needs and how Toastmasters can help.

▶ DID YOU KNOW?

Corporate clubs draw membership from employees of an organization. When these clubs choose to accept only employees of that organization as members, the club is considered “closed.” Corporate clubs may decide to include members who are not employees; in this case the clubs are identified as “open.”

Community club

A community club is generally open to anyone and is not tied to a sponsoring organization. It is usually formed so that people can come together to improve their communication and leadership skills. Community club meetings are typically held at local restaurants, schools, community centers or libraries.

Requirements for all clubs

Whether you're forming a community or corporate club, it must meet the following requirements:

- ▶ Clubs must meet at least 12 times per year.
- ▶ Regular meetings must be conducted in person.
- ▶ Members must give speeches in person and give and receive verbal evaluations.
- ▶ Members must be afforded the opportunity to develop and practice leadership skills.

STEP 3: REQUEST A CLUB SPONSOR

The good news is you don't have to build your club alone. You can request up to two club sponsors to help you with:

- ▶ Marketing your new club to prospective members
- ▶ Presenting demonstration meetings
- ▶ Completing forms

For more information about club sponsors, email newclubs@toastmasters.org.

▶ DID YOU KNOW?

Club sponsors can help you with one of the most important aspects of starting a new club—generating interest. They will help you get the word out and offer encouragement and advice.

STEP 4: GENERATE INTEREST

Get your corporate club started

To start a corporate club, it is important to gain the support of a decision-maker within your organization who can champion your club's formation. Follow these steps:

- ▶ Schedule an appointment with your human resources director or a potential executive sponsor. Use the corporate marketing letter available at www.toastmasters.org/corporatemarketingletter.
- ▶ Prepare for the meeting with your human resources director and be ready to discuss the value an onsite club can bring to your organization. Use the Features, Benefits and Value chart www.toastmasters.org/fbvchart to talk through your points along with the Introductory Meeting Presentation www.toastmasters.org/corporatepresentation.

"My passion, and frankly admiration, for Toastmasters goes deep as I have rarely seen a program that commits to storytelling with such ease and conviction.

We all know how important communication is in business and in life and how daunting it can be to many; Toastmasters' program develops confidence in people's ability to effectively communicate."

Mike Fasulo
President and COO
Sony Electronics Inc.

- ▶ Ask for your organization's support in forming the new club and determine what portion of the club costs your organization will pay, if any. Often, the organization pays the charter and new-member fees, while members pay their own dues. Some organizations pay for the club banner and other club materials or supply the meeting location.
- ▶ Plan and conduct a demonstration meeting that shows the benefits of Toastmasters to both the individual and the organization. A demonstration meeting also explains how a club meeting is conducted. You can find more information about demonstration meetings on page 12.

Publicize the demonstration meeting:

- ▶ Ask your human resources representative for assistance with promoting your club.
- ▶ Post notices on the company's intranet and bulletin boards.
- ▶ Invite fellow employees and extend a special invitation to your company's key decision-makers.
- ▶ Download free promotional materials at www.toastmasters.org/marketing. You can purchase hard copies as well.

Get your community club started

If you are starting a community club and have a sponsor(s), then you are ready to begin! In order to charter a new club, you need to have a minimum of 20 members, only three of whom may be members of another club (referred to as "dual" members). The remaining 17 members can be new, reinstated or transfer members.

Work with your club sponsors to:

- ▶ Designate the right location for your club meetings, ensuring that it's easy to find and can accommodate at least 20 members.
- ▶ Plan a demonstration meeting that highlights the benefits of Toastmasters membership and shows how a club meeting is conducted. (See page 12).

Next, publicize the demonstration meeting:

- ▶ Send personal invitations via email, Facebook, etc. to colleagues, friends or anyone in your community who could benefit from improved communication and leadership skills.
- ▶ Submit announcements to local newspapers and broadcast media.
- ▶ Post notices on community websites, social media platforms and bulletin boards.
- ▶ Give each visitor at the Demonstration Meeting a Charter Membership Application (See page 23 in Appendix B).
- ▶ Download free promotional materials at www.toastmasters.org/marketing. You can purchase hard copies as well.

Once you have 20 members, select three separate members to hold the offices of president, vice president and secretary/treasurer. Then complete the "Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club" in Appendix B on page 19.

To create marketing materials, use the logos, images, templates and other resources at www.toastmasters.org/logos. You can also refer to the Let the World Know: Publicity and Promotion Handbook (Item 1140) for ideas on how to promote your club to the media with news releases.

► DID YOU KNOW?

Toastmasters International is a world leader in communication and leadership development with membership exceeding 352,000 in 16,400 clubs in 141 countries.

Remember to safeguard the Toastmasters brand

When you create any promotional material, it's important to remember that the Toastmasters brand is recognized throughout the world. By maintaining the integrity of the Toastmasters brand, trademarks and copyrights, you ensure that a consistent message is communicated in all club locations. This, in turn, increases understanding and global awareness of Toastmasters International. Your role is to safeguard the Toastmasters brand, trademarks, and copyrights by ensuring that all Toastmasters materials used or created by your club comply with appropriate copyright and trademark laws and Toastmasters' guidelines.

► DID YOU KNOW?

The Toastmasters brand is recognized throughout the world. When you form a new club, one of your roles is to safeguard the Toastmasters brand by adhering to all guidelines for marketing and promotional materials.

"I want to be able to make a difference in the world and effectively deliver my message so I can inspire people to take their lives to the next level. This wouldn't be possible without effective communication—one of the most important things I learned at Toastmasters."

Irvine, California, USA

STEP 5: CHARTER YOUR CLUB AND SET UP A BANK ACCOUNT

These are critical steps to forming your club. To make your club an official Toastmasters club, you must charter. Fill out these seven forms to complete your club's charter:

1. Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club (page 19)
2. Charter Payments (page 21)
3. Charter Membership Application (page 23)
4. Charter Club Officer Information (page 27)
5. Club Information (page 28)
- 6A. Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International (page 29)
- 6B. Addendum of Standard Club Options (page 35)

To begin the chartering process, you should complete the “Application to Organize a Toastmasters Club” along with the other forms above and submit it with the US$125 charter fee. All of the necessary forms are located on page 18 in Appendix B.

▶ DID YOU KNOW?

To get your club chartered, seven forms must be completed. You can find the “Charter Forms Checklist” to help you keep track on page 18 in Appendix B.

Open a bank account

Set up a bank account to deposit your club dues. For help opening a bank account, contact irsquestions@toastmasters.org. If you are starting a club in the United States refer to page 16 of Appendix A.

Note: If your club has collected payments, but does not have a bank account of its own, it may designate a club officer to hold the payments until the club has opened an account or until payments are sent to World Headquarters. Your club may deposit payments into another club's account temporarily. Send additional financial questions to financequestions@toastmasters.org.

▶ DID YOU KNOW?

It is important to collect payments for dues and fees during or soon after your club's first meeting. All payments to Toastmasters International must be in U.S. dollars.

STEP 6: CELEBRATE!

Once you have completed and submitted all of the charter forms, your club will receive its official charter. Now is the time to share the good news! The presentation of the charter marks the debut of your new Toastmasters club. It also offers an excellent opportunity to recognize individuals who helped form the club and to generate publicity. Be sure to invite the following people:

Corporate Club:

- ▶ Fellow co-workers
- ▶ Supervisors and/or managers
- ▶ Human Resources Department and executives of the company

Community Club:

- ▶ Members of the sponsoring club
- ▶ Friends and family of the new members
- ▶ Members of nearby Toastmasters clubs
- ▶ Local community and business leaders
- ▶ District director and other district leaders

At this time, you may also be assigned a club mentor. These experienced Toastmasters can help you by:

- ▶ Supporting your new club during the first six to 12 months (after being chartered)
- ▶ Guiding you to create a quality club experience
- ▶ Deciding to join your club

Note: Before selecting a date for the charter celebration, allow for enough time to receive the club charter and charter member certificates (Two to six weeks for clubs within the U.S. or Canada, and four to eight weeks for all other club locations).

▶ DID YOU KNOW?

A club is officially chartered when World Headquarters has received and processed all documents and payments. See the charter forms checklist in Appendix B on page 18.

TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL FIRST YEAR

All club members contribute to the atmosphere of the club. During your first year while your club has support from sponsors and mentors, it's important to foster a positive, pleasant environment so existing members can enjoy their experiences and potential members are encouraged to join. Here are a few more tips to help you succeed with your new club:

1. Find a meeting location that is pleasant and comfortable.
2. Start and end all meetings on time.
3. Ensure your sergeant at arms sets up the room in advance.
4. Greet guests warmly, and introduce them to others.
5. Ask guests to fill out a guest information form or sign a guest book and invite them to become members when they visit.
6. Provide each member and guest with a meeting agenda.
7. Enthusiastically participate and fill in for those who are unable to attend. Meeting planning and organization are critical to club success.
8. Explain the meeting roles and the responsibilities involved for each role to the members.
9. Inform participants of their responsibilities at least one week in advance.
10. Have the Topicsmaster prepare thought-provoking Table Topics®.
11. Base evaluations of speeches on project objectives and the individual learning needs of the member.
12. Use materials consistent with the Toastmasters brand to present a unified look and message.

Periodically refer to the Moments of Truth Club Evaluation Chart (Item 290B) to ensure your club is offering a quality experience. Success 101 (Item 1622) also is an excellent resource, offering tips and ideas to make your club and its members successful.

DEMONSTRATION MEETING GUIDELINES

The demonstration meeting gives you the opportunity to share the benefits of Toastmasters with prospective members. Prior to the meeting, you will assign club roles (listed below) and guide prospective members through a typical meeting.

Toastmasters' meeting roles are as follows:

- ▶ Toastmaster
- ▶ Timer
- ▶ Ah-Counter or grammarian
- ▶ General evaluator
- ▶ Speaker
- ▶ Evaluator
- ▶ Topicsmaster

For more details about meeting roles, refer to Meeting Roles and Responsibilities (Item 295).

Before and at the demonstration meeting, keep the following in mind:

- ▶ Choose eight or more Toastmasters to conduct the meeting (although you may still have one with fewer).
- ▶ Select a team that mirrors the audience's demographics.
- ▶ Keep the meeting short and don't go over the time that was specified. Your goal is to create interest.
- ▶ Include a short Table Topics session, a prepared speech and an evaluation.
- ▶ Select one speaker who is relatable to your audience who can speak about a topic that ties into the theme of the new club.
- ▶ To form a corporate club, invite representatives from and/or the decision-makers of the sponsoring organization, if any. Their presence will confirm the meeting's importance. Invite influential members of your community to form a community club.

After the meeting:

- ▶ Ask members to share Toastmasters success stories.
- ▶ Introduce potential club sponsors and club mentors, emphasizing that when the club is chartered, both will provide support.
- ▶ Announce the date, time and place of the next meeting.
- ▶ Let prospective members know that the new-member fee is US$20 per person and the semiannual membership dues are US$45 per person (US$33.75 if a member is in an undistricted area). Collect these payments along with completed application forms for those who decide to join.
- ▶ Clarify that Toastmasters clubs are required to send payment for membership dues semiannually in April and October. Clubs chartering in March or September may wish to submit their renewal dues at that time to avoid collecting dues from each member twice in two months. For details, please see Form 2, Line 6.
- ▶ Conduct a brief question-and-answer session.

View the Club Experience Video to learn more.

APPENDIX A

Splitting a club

Toastmasters International recommends that a club have 20 to 30 members. Clubs with more than 40 members may benefit from splitting into two clubs.

When you submit the charter paperwork and payment for a club forming from an existing club, include a letter stating that the club is splitting. Transferring members do not pay membership dues or new-member fees as long as their dues are current in the club from which they are transferring.

Each club must have a minimum of 20 members after splitting. All members of the new club may be transfer members. Before a club may split, members of the existing club must agree to split. Be sure that experienced, active members are evenly divided into both clubs.

Advanced clubs

Occasionally, a group chooses to charter a special club with a requirement that its members have already achieved an advanced Toastmasters education award, have progressed to a certain level within the Toastmasters program, or have held a certain level of leadership role. In these clubs, members focus on developing advanced skills, hear advanced-level presenters and receive evaluations and feedback from other experienced members.

Advanced clubs must have a minimum of 20 members to charter and follow the same charter process as other clubs. Some advanced clubs require that members belong to another club. This is referred to as a “dual membership.” If an advanced club decides on this membership requirement, all 20 members of the club must be dual members. Of these members only three of the first 20 members may transfer one of their existing club memberships into the new club; these members must still belong to two clubs after they transfer out of one club and into the new club. (A transfer refers to a member who has paid dues in one club and would like to move their membership to another club; dues are not paid to the new club until the following dues-renewal period.) When chartering, the club must indicate its membership requirements and include the reason(s) why the club would like to be considered as advanced on the Addendum of Standard Club Options (Form 6B), under Membership Composition.

Governing documents

Each club is governed by the policies of the organization. The Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International is the club’s main governing document.

Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International

A club may amend portions of the Addendum of Standard Club Options as long as they do not conflict with the Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International or the Policies and Protocol of the organization. Amendments may be made with a two-thirds vote. See the Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International, Article X: Amendments. Notify Toastmasters International online at www.toastmasters.org/clubcentral or in writing of any proposed changes. The changes are reviewed and, if not in conflict with the club constitution, the information is kept on file. Changes to a club name, location, meeting time and place are made in Club Central. You can also submit the information to World Headquarters by letter or email it to clubconstitution@toastmasters.org.

Opening a new club bank account in the U.S.

To open a new club bank account in the United States, you must use the club's unique Employer Identification Number (EIN). Each club's EIN is available on the Toastmasters website in Club Central on the Update My Club Meeting Information section. United States tax law requires all U.S. clubs to have an EIN number. When your club completes its initial chartering process, World Headquarters will send an EIN application to the IRS on behalf of your club. Once the IRS grants the EIN, a club can open its own bank account. Typically, the bank will want a copy of the following:

- ▶ The EIN assignment letter you received from the IRS
- ▶ Club meeting minutes indicating current officers who are authorized by the club as signers on the bank account.
- ▶ Your club's charter documents, including the Club Constitution for Clubs of Toastmasters International and Addendum of Standard Club Options

Club compliance with Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC)

All club officers must take necessary measures to ensure their club and its members are in compliance with policies set by OFAC, a department that administers sanction programs based on U.S. foreign policy and national security. To ensure compliance, first find out if the country in which your club will be formed is on the sanctioned countries list at www.treasury.gov/resource-center/sanctions/programs. If it is, then check for members' names on the Specifically Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (SDN) at sdnsearch.ofac.treas.gov. Contact legal@toastmasters.org if a member's name appears on the SDN list, or if you have questions.

Liability insurance

Your club's meeting place could require insurance coverage. If so, send a request for a copy of the Certificate of Liability Insurance to tminurance@toastmasters.org. If the venue requests a customized certificate, follow the instructions available at www.toastmasters.org/liability-insurance.

APPENDIX B

ARTICLE I:

Purpose

The mission of a Toastmasters club is to provide a mutually supportive and positive learning environment in which every individual member has the opportunity to develop oral communication and leadership skills, which in turn foster self-confidence and personal growth.

In order to carry out this purpose, this club shall:

- ▶ Help its individual members improve their abilities to communicate effectively
- ▶ Provide for its individual members' instructions, educational materials and opportunities which will give them skill and experience in the preparation and delivery of speeches
- ▶ Encourage its individual members to read and to listen analytically
- ▶ Provide for its individual members' fair and constructive evaluation of their efforts toward self-improvement
- ▶ Increase its individual members' knowledge of the rules of parliamentary procedure and their skills in conducting meetings and participating in group discussions
- ▶ Afford leadership training for its individual members
- ▶ Provide opportunities and encouragement for its individual members to appear before audiences and to express their thoughts creditably

ARTICLE II:

Membership

Composition

Section 1

All individual members of this club shall be at least 18 years of age. No person shall be excluded from individual membership in, or from any program or activity of, this club because of age (except those persons under 18 years of age), race, color, creed, gender, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, or physical or mental disability, so long as the individual, through his or her own effort, is able to participate in the program. However, the addendum of standard club options (hereafter referred to as the "Addendum") under the constitution may provide for other restrictions on the composition of the individual membership, e.g., to the employees of a particular company or agency, residents of a specific community, or people sharing a special interest.

Admission to Membership

Section 2

This club is a private association, and membership herein shall be by invitation only. Any individual member may sponsor an eligible prospective individual member, and invite him or her to join this club, so long as the person is not currently suspended or removed from good standing with Toastmasters International under Article III, Section 8, of the Bylaws of Toastmasters International. Application for individual membership shall be made on the form provided by Toastmasters International. Such application, accompanied by the new member fee and applicable dues, shall be returned to the club secretary who shall read it to this club. The applicant shall be declared elected to individual membership upon the favorable vote of at least a majority of the active individual members of this club present and voting at a business meeting of the club membership. The individual membership of this club may be divided into three classifications: active, inactive, and honorary.

Member Responsibilities

Section 3

All active individual members shall be entitled to all rights and privileges of this club, and all individual members shall share in its responsibilities. These responsibilities shall include support of its purposes and constructive contribution to its program and activities.

Inactive and Honorary Membership

Section 4

Inactive individual membership is provided for as follows:

- (a) Inactive individual membership in this club may be conferred by the executive committee of this club on any individual member requesting an extended absence from club meetings, or who wishes to maintain individual membership without regular attendance at club meetings. An individual member may also be classified as inactive for continued absence without notice. An inactive individual member may be restored to active individual membership by the club executive committee upon request, provided there is a vacancy on the active roster of this club.

- (b) Inactive individual members shall have no voting privileges, shall not hold office, shall not be counted toward a quorum of the club membership, and shall not participate in International Speech Contests. However, this club may count any inactive individual members toward qualification for minimum Toastmasters International standards for member clubs. Inactive individual members shall pay at least such portion of their club dues as this club pays to Toastmasters International as the membership payment for such inactive individual member, and shall pay any additional amount specified in the Addendum.

Section 5

Honorary individual membership may be conferred upon any qualified person by the favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the active individual members of this club at a club business meeting. Such membership shall be restricted to persons whose activities and public statements are consistent with the purposes of Toastmasters International. Honorary individual members have no voting privileges, shall not hold office, shall not be counted toward a quorum of the club membership, and shall not participate in speech contests. Honorary individual members shall be exempt from all club fees and dues, and their membership payments to Toastmasters International shall be paid by this club. Except as provided herein, the rights, obligations, and conditions of honorary membership shall be as stated in the Addendum.

Section 6

Inactive and honorary individual members are not eligible to serve in any club office. They are not entitled to places on the regular speakers' program but may serve as substitutes when requested by the club president or the Toastmaster of the meeting. They may also participate in club discussions and serve as evaluators.

Discipline/Expel/Suspend/Decline to Renew Membership

Section 7

This club may establish, from time to time, routine procedures for dropping individual members who fail to pay club dues, who miss a certain number of meetings, or who fall below other minimum standards as determined by the club or Toastmasters International.

This club may discipline, expel, suspend, or decline to renew club membership of any individual member

- ▶ Who does not support this club's purposes
- ▶ Who does not constructively contribute to this club's program and activities
- ▶ Who acts in a manner inconsistent with standards of conduct set by this club or by Toastmasters International
- ▶ For other just cause

Such standards include ethical, political, and other standards of conduct that may be established or modified by the Toastmasters International Board of Directors from time to time. This club shall follow such policy and protocol as may be adopted by Toastmasters International, containing standards and procedures for the continuation of individual members.

If this club does not expel an individual member for violations of Toastmasters International standards of conduct, after written request to do so is made by the International President, this club may be expelled from Toastmasters International unless its failure to act can be justified to the satisfaction of the Board of Directors.
